Community Arts and Popular Education in the Americas

Deborah Barndt, editor
With VIVA! Project Partners

Join us for a conversation with Deborah Barndt about popular education, her new book ¡VIVA!, and the Food Justice Conference that she recently attended.

¡VIVA! Community Arts and Popular Education in the Americas is about community art making community change. ¡VIVA! has been created by and for people who are seeking a more just and sustainable world, who want to integrate education and art into community work, who believe that such synergy can foster greater passion for and deeper commitment to movements for social and environmental justice.

Deborah Barndt's other books include Tangled Routes: Women, Work, and Globalization on the Tomato Trail; Provoked by Art: Theorizing Arts-Informed Inquiry; Just Doing It: Popular Collective Action in the Americas; and To Change This House: Popular Education Under the Sandinistas.
